

What to Expect When You Breed to Uno Don Diego

Uno's foals have three quality gaits and good temperaments. He consistently improves rhythm and balance to all three gaits, but especially adds balance to the canter. Uno carries both the black and red factor genes. He can produce black, chestnut, or bay offspring.

Offspring Characteristics

- Lots of natural balance
- Nice, rectangular types
- Good dressage types
- Good expression, pretty heads
- A fairly long, arched neck
- Long, sloping shoulder
- Nice, long, prominent withers
- Good topline
- Well-shaped, muscular croup
- Correct leg conformation, some with angled hocks
- Quality movement, very good in walk and canter
- Very good, elastic trot
- Very balanced canter
- Good temperament and work ethic
- Adds size, height, bone

Ideal Pairing

- Adds height and bone to modern mares
- Also successful with older types